We hope your Advising and Registration (A&R) experience will be fun and informative. We're excited to have you join the Missouri S&T family!

This guidebook addresses some of the concerns students, parents and families have about college. S&T offers many resources to students to ensure academic, personal and professional success. The information in our guidebook supplements today's A&R activities — some sections are for students, and some are for their guests and family members.

We invite you to talk with current students, staff and faculty about any specific interests or concerns you have. If you want more information about a topic in the guidebook or have questions after your A&R Day, please refer to the official Missouri S&T website at mst.edu.

If you are unsure about where to begin, contact New Student Programs at 573-341-4025 or pro@mst.edu or like us on Facebook at facebook.com/SandTFutureStudents or connect with us on Instagram with @sandt_newstudents. We'll be happy to answer your questions or direct you to the best person for assistance.

We thank you for joining us at A&R. See you during Opening Week!

Sincerely,

Joe Miner

What Will College Be Like?

While grades are one measure of success, knowing that you are doing your best and achieving your goals may sometimes mean that you gladly accept a “B” in a really tough class.

Being accepted to S&T means that we believe your past record shows you are capable of satisfying the demands of the challenging but worthwhile S&T curriculum. Although your ability and academic background play a role in your success at S&T, it also depends on the efforts you make to master the material and your willingness to ask for help when you need it.

Each student’s college experience is unique. In addition to joys and triumphs, you’ll face many challenges. Whether you move away from home or continue living with family, you’ll assume greater responsibility for yourself, meet new people and adjust to the academic demands of college. If you find yourself struggling to get along with your roommate, manage your time, do well in a class or make a tough choice, remember — it often helps to discuss your thoughts with someone else.

Ask for help — advisors, instructors, counselors, residence hall assistants, success coaches, mentors and parents are available to help you.

Taking personal responsibility for achieving your goals is the key to success. In college you have more freedom. It will be your responsibility to determine what actions will move you toward your goals.

A final key to being successful involves striving for balance in your life. Finding the optimum mix of work and play leads to happiness. Know your priorities, respect your limits, but don’t limit possibilities.

HONORS ACADEMY

undergrad.mst.edu/honors

The Honors Academy is a community of outstanding scholars seeking an enhanced educational experience. Eligible students will receive an invitation for the program after admission to the university.

Incoming first-year students are eligible if:
1) Min 29 ACT / 1340 SAT CR+M
2) Top 10% high school class rank or min 3.5 GPA.

An Honors Academy student who maintains a 3.5+ GPA and has at least 15 credit hours of “Honors” classes will earn the distinction of “Honors Academy Fellow” on their diploma and transcript and in the Commencement Program.

KUMMER VANGUARD SCHOLARS PROGRAM

vanguardscholars.mst.edu

The Kummer Vanguard Scholars Program is a competitive program established through a portion of a generous gift of $300 million from June and Fred Kummer, longtime supporters of Missouri S&T. The Kummer Vanguard Scholars Program is limited to 350 to 400 STEM Scholars each year. Each Kummer Vanguard Scholar will receive $1,000-$3,000 a year for up to four years. These scholarships may be combined with other university scholarships.

S&T also has the U.S. Navy Nuclear Propulsion Officer Program for Nuclear Engineering students. You can take ROTC courses for up to two years without making any commitment to the military.
Academic Assistance

There are many sources of academic assistance at Missouri S&T that students can access to improve their proficiency with course material and learning processes.

Academic Advisor
advising.mst.edu
Your academic advisor plays an important role in your success. They help you select courses each semester, evaluate your academic progress, resolve any academic performance problems and help you explore career options.

As the student, you are responsible for initiating and maintaining regular contact with your advisor. Meetings with a clear purpose promote the best interactions. However, occasional visits for casual conversation will help you and your advisor become acquainted.

Student Well-Being
wellbeing.mst.edu
Personal counseling is available to S&T students within a brief-treatment, solution-focused model at no additional cost. Confidential services are provided by licensed professionals.

Some students seek support as they adjust to college life, explore family or relationship situations, or to reduce feelings of depression or anxiety. Others wonder about the choice of academic or professional goals, or struggle with issues such as motivation or test anxiety that interfere with academic success.

Staff members collaborate with students to help clarify and address issues, support existing strengths, and arrange referrals when appropriate.

Peer Education
wellbeing.mst.edu/peer-education
Peer Education within Student Well-Being provides students education, information and resources on a variety of prevention and health measures. Peer Education promotes healthy behaviors to foster a campus environment conducive to academic, professional and personal success by addressing both individual and environmental influences on health and well-being.

Student Accessibility and Testing
saat.mst.edu
Student accessibility and testing (SAT) provides accommodations for students with disabilities to provide equal access for educational opportunities. Services available to qualified students can include classroom adaptation, alternative testing and assistive technology. If you have a documented disability, please contact SAT to request accommodations.

Testing Center
testcenter.mst.edu
The Testing Center provides the campus with a variety of testing programs including College Level Examination Program (CLEP), distance education online tests and national/professional certification testing. Testing accommodations for self-identified students with a disability are also available.

Learning Enhancement Across Disciplines lead.mst.edu
The LEAD program offers learning forums for students who wish to improve their understanding of concepts and their mastery of skills in a wide variety of foundational courses. Student-oriented learning centers are staffed by discipline-based faculty and accomplished undergraduate peer learning assistants who guide students in the learning process within an atmosphere of cooperative engagement and teamwork.

Writing Center
writingcenter.mst.edu
The Writing Center provides trained writing tutors to help students from all disciplines improve their abilities to write, revise and edit assignments and professional documents effectively.

Student Veterans Resource Center

Our student success coaches are trained to help you with goal setting, time management, organization, study skills and more. For students who need more one-on-one attention, the Burns & McDonnell Student Success Center also offers individualized tutoring sessions.

Accessing Your Computer Account

Your S&T username allows access to campus computer resources. You received a username via email when you were accepted for admission to S&T that allows you to access Joe’Ss. Once logged in, you will need to reset your password.

If you’ve forgotten your password or want to reset it, visit the “Forgot Your Password” link at joess.mst.edu or call the IT Help Desk at 573-341-4357 (HELP).

Student email

it.mst.edu

University email is the official channel of communication with students, faculty and staff. For information about how to activate your official university email account, visit the student email section of it.mst.edu. Check your university email account frequently throughout the summer to receive updated information concerning Opening Week, Move-in and financial information.

Joe’Ss

joess.mst.edu

“Joe’s Self-Service” (Joe’Ss) is S&T’s online Student Information System. Joe’Ss provides access to update student information, unofficial student transcripts, grades, course scheduling, fee statements, scholarship and financial aid information, and more.

Curtis Laws Wilson Library

library.mst.edu

Curtis Laws Wilson Library provides access to a variety of research materials and e-resources. For in-depth help, you can schedule an appointment for a one-on-one research consultation with a librarian. The library is a campus gathering spot with coffee, meeting rooms, quiet spaces and technology support.

The Miner Card

pro.mst.edu/minercard

The Miner Card, your campus ID, is required for all students. Your Miner Card features your name and photograph. Your student and campus information are encoded on your card. Treat your Miner Card with the same care as you would an ATM or credit card. Your Miner Card can be used for access to buildings, on-campus dining, sporting and theater special events, and discounts at restaurants, local businesses, and more.

Parking

police.mst.edu/parking

Students may bring a vehicle to campus. All S&T parking lots (including residence halls) require a paid parking permit purchased through Parking Lot Operations. Parking is not included with housing costs nor is it a guaranteed space. All students must sign up through the online waiting list in order to receive a parking permit.

Safety

police.mst.edu

University Polices provides many services to ensure a safe community and comfort for all students. One service provided is a safety escort for students who do not want to walk on campus or return to their place of residence at night alone. In addition, security guards and campus service officers regularly patrol public areas, and security cameras have also been added throughout campus. The S&T Police Department is open and available to students 24 hours a day.

University Committee for Assistance, Response, and Evaluation (UCARE)

studentsupport.mst.edu

Missouri S&T’s University Committee for Assistance, Response and Evaluation (UCARE) is the central point of contact and referral for students who may be experiencing a personal, academic, financial, wellbeing or other concern. Often, a quick response to provide a student experiencing a challenge or distress with timely resources will ensure that the student remains on track academically. UCARE can receive referrals from students, campus partners, family members, friends, or anyone else who has a concern about a student.

Campus Emergency Alert System

Opt-in to receive text message or voicemail alerts in the event of a campus emergency. After logging into Joe’Ss at joess.mst.edu, look for the “Emergency Mass Notification” link in the left side menu to sign up for the service or update your contact information.

Why should you opt in to the emergency alert system?

- You’ll receive emergency news and updates regardless of where you are on or off campus.
- The system is used ONLY for true emergencies (natural disaster; human or technological crisis); and once a semester for a system test.
- The service is free, but your cell carrier’s rates for text and incoming calls will apply.

You can update your contact information anytime at joess.mst.edu. Your contact information is kept secure and confidential and will NEVER be used to spam you.

Missouri S&T launched Rave Guardian, a free mobile app that turns your smartphone into a personal safety device. By downloading Rave Guardian on your mobile device, you can invite friends and family to join your network as your “Guardians.” Learn more at alert.mst.edu/rave-guardian.

The university’s nondiscrimination policy applies to any phase of its employment process, any phase of its admission or financial aid programs, or other aspects of its educational programs or activities. Students must complete “Not Anymore” a program designed to help them recognize and prevent sexual discrimination, by the last day of classes during their first semester. They must earn at least a 70% on the program. To access the training, visit: equity.mst.edu/training-education.

Family Guidebook 2023
This year, the University of Missouri System has adopted a new tuition structure that makes the costs of a college education more predictable and transparent for S&T students. The structure consolidates base tuition, supplemental course fees and the information technology fee into one flat rate based on major. Undergraduate students may also take 12–18 hours per semester at a flat rate.

Estimated Tuition Costs for Undergraduate Students

(based on a course load of 24-36 credit hours over a two-semester academic year)

S&T offers an excellent investment in a university education, with affordable tuition, generous financial aid and a high demand for its graduates.

In the above table, students taking 12 to 18 credit hours are assessed a flat amount per semester. Credit hours outside of that range are assessed 1/12 of the flat rate. Student activity fees are assessed separately.

Students with fewer than 30 earned or in-progress credit hours are considered freshmen. Credits transferred in to S&T are counted toward the number of earned credits. However, all first-time college students, regardless of the number of transfer credits, will be assessed the freshman rate their first semester. Students transferring to S&T from another institution of higher education are not eligible for the freshman rate.

The university reserves the right to modify by increase or decrease the tuition and fees charged for attendance and other services to the university, including but not limited to tuition, at any time when in the discretion of the governing board the same is in the best interest of the university, provided that no increases can or will be effective unless approved by the Curators of the University of Missouri not less than 30 days prior to the beginning of the academic term (semester, etc.) to which the fees are applicable, with all modification of fees to be effective irrespective as to whether fees have or have not been paid by on or behalf of a student prior to the effective date of the modification.
Billing and Payments

S&T does NOT mail fee statements. All billing statements are electronic. The student will receive email notification at their S&T email address when a statement is available for viewing.

1. How do I view my eBill?
   - Log-on to Joe’SS.
   - Click on Student Center.
   - Under the Financial account tile, click on the TouchNet Link.
   - You will be asked for your Joe’SS log in information again.

2. How do I set up authorized payers?
   - Log on to Joe’SS to navigate to TouchNet.
   - Re-enter your Joe’SS user ID and password, make sure you are allowing pop-ups.
   - On the TouchNet Homepage, select Authorized users from the “My Profile Setup” column.
   - Select “Add Authorized User.”
   - Enter email address and select permissions to grant access.

3. What should I do with my eBill?
   Carefully review the information provided in reference to charges, anticipated financial aid awarded, minimum and full payment amounts, payment due dates, etc. If your financial aid does not completely cover your cost, at least the minimum payment is due by the date communicated on your billing statement to secure your course selection. If you have questions regarding financial aid or scholarships, call the student financial assistance Office at 800-522-0938 or 573-341-4282. For questions regarding billing or payment, call the cashier’s office at 573-341-4195, send an email to cashier@mst.edu or visit the cashier’s window on the ground level of Parker Hall.

MANAGE YOUR MONEY

APPLY FOR SCHOLARSHIPS AND AID.
Start applying for scholarships and aid early each semester and keep checking back for new offers. Look for scholarships both from the university and from external sources, like your community. Apply for university scholarships at scholarships.mst.edu.

ASK FOR HELP WHEN YOU NEED IT.
If you run into a financial disaster, let your family know you’re in trouble. If an unexpected event changes your financial situation — or you simply need help budgeting your money — don’t give up on school! First, come to the student financial assistance office in G-1 Parker and see if we can help.

- Track it. Track your spending for two to four weeks to see where your money is going. Once you see how much impulse buying and indulgences are costing you, it’ll be easier to say “No!”
- Get a plan. The best way to manage your money over the course of a semester is to map out a budget.

- Good-time money. All students will need some form of entertainment. Build some “fun” money into your budget.
- Pace yourself. If you spend, spend, spend at the beginning of the semester, you could be tapped out later. Give yourself a spending limit for each week.
- Protect your identity. Don’t give your Social Security, credit card or bank account number to anyone unless you know why they need to see them. Review bank statements and phone bills regularly for unauthorized use.
- Set your own credit line. Just because you have a $2,000 credit line doesn’t mean you spend $2,000.
- Use credit cards sparingly. Avoid using credit cards and debit cards for small purchases like sodas and snacks. Be smart about credit cards.
- Look ahead. Whether it’s a road trip, a bill, or a big expense, start putting some money aside to pay for it. Set aside some money for an emergency fund, for car repairs, or to replace a broken calculator.
- Keep a calendar. Monitor due dates for bills, scholarship applications, Feb. 1 FAFSA deadline and other expenses.
Research has shown a positive correlation between academic success and campus and community involvement. Students who are involved tend to be more academically successful, experience more personal growth, and are generally more satisfied with their college experience.

S&T Residency Policy
Because campus living enhances your well-being and increases the likelihood of your success, S&T has a residency policy that states all students who have not completed four semesters of college prior to the start of the academic year are required to live in university-approved housing. Exemptions can be requested under special circumstances. More information can be found at reslife.mst.edu/housing-policy.

University-approved furnished housing includes residence halls, fraternities, sororities and the Christian Campus Houses.

Safety
Missouri S&T strives to provide a safe and comfortable living community. Safety measures in campus-approved housing include deadbolt locks, restricted key/card access, building locking procedures, police patrols of the campus and educational programs to promote personal safety. Additionally, S&T follows guidelines that restrict providing information about students, such as class schedules, phone and room numbers.

What forms should I submit?
Even if you're not sure where you want to live, first-year students must complete the Housing Application. The Housing Interest Form must be submitted through the Housing Portal by May 1. For more information, contact residential life at 573-341-4218 or reslife.mst.edu.

When will I move to Rolla?
As a first-time student, you must arrive at S&T prior to Opening Week Orientation. Residence halls open for move-in at 9 a.m., Tuesday, Aug. 15, 2023. Only students who attend the A&R session on Aug. 14 will be allowed to move-in on Friday, Aug. 11 (other students who need to be on campus prior to Aug. 15 will need to make arrangements for early arrival with the residential life office).

Can I change my mind about my roommate and where I live?
You may change your request regarding living in any of the residence halls or Greek houses. Once you have been assigned residence hall space, you are permitted to change rooms after the third week of classes. Contact the Residential Life Office to check on space availability and to complete necessary paperwork. University-approved housing options share an agreement to facilitate room changes between residence halls and fraternity and sorority houses.

Bringing a computer to S&T?
Consider purchasing your computer through The S&T Store to receive educational discounts, special promotions, full warranties with accidental damage protection and special Student Purchase Plan financing. Details can be found at thesandtstore.com. Contact us at minertech@mst.edu or 573-341-7901. Walk-in IT help is available at the library for computers purchased at The S&T Store.

Residence Halls
S&T’s residence halls in which first-year students typically reside are Thomas Jefferson (TJ), Residential Commons (RC) and University Commons (UC). Room assignments are available on JoeSS in mid-July. Your room assignment will include a link to access your campus mailing address as well as your roommate’s name, email and phone number.

Christian Campus Houses rollaccf.org
The two Christian Campus Houses provide university-approved housing for male and female students and are located close to campus.

Fraternities and Sororities involvement.mst.edu/fraternityandsoeveritylife
Of S&T’s 24 Greek chapters, 19 offer university-approved housing with resident capacities ranging from 20 to 100. Each member who lives in a UAH facility pays a per-semester fee. Additionally, dependent on your join date, you also may pay housing cancellation fees. Specific questions pertaining to costs associated with Greek residences need to be addressed with each respective chapter.

Fraternities and sororities issue invitations for membership, often called “bids.” When you accept an invitation to membership, you signify that you are joining that fraternity or sorority. Although you have the option of living in a chapter house as a freshman, accepting a bid may not obligate you to do so; you should ask chapters about their housing expectations before accepting a bid.

Opportunities for women to participate in Primary Recruitment are available during Opening Week Orientation. Freshman male students have the option to move directly into fraternity houses. All men interested in joining a fraternity — but unsure of their options and preferences — are encouraged to complete a Residential Life Housing Interest form to ensure housing will be provided to them in the fall.

Living/Learning Community
Honors Housing
Located in University Commons. The Honors Housing is designed for students who are selected for Missouri S&T’s Honors Academy. Preference to live in this housing can be indicated on the Housing Interest Form.
PARENTING A NEW COLLEGE STUDENT

What is it like emotionally for first-year students?
First-year students may experience some varied feelings – enthusiasm, anxiety, loneliness and delight. It is normal to feel extremely excited one week and discouraged the next. While adjusting to a new academic atmosphere and new living situation, students must re-establish a sense of security and identity in their environment.

What can I do to help my student’s transition to college?
First-year college students often seek parental support and encouragement. Some students call or visit home, seeking approval of their decisions. Students develop by improving their capacity to make sound decisions and by being responsible for their own actions. You might consider resisting any urges to “bail out” your student from the natural consequences of their decisions. Help your student focus on the new knowledge that negative consequences can provide. If your student needs help, suggest that they seek assistance through campus resources.

How can I help if my student has difficulties?
There is help available on campus for many concerns that your student may face. The challenge for many students is to take the initiative to seek assistance. Listen patiently and then encourage your student to take advantage of on-campus resources. Don’t feel that you have to be an expert — suggest that your student start with his/her academic advisor or visit the Student Success Center.

What should I keep in mind when communicating with my student?
It will be important to shift from “parent-to-child” to “adult-to-adult” interactions. When students are at school, family members usually have minimal input into their choices. A predictable conflict may be when they visit home and wish to maintain these freedoms. It is helpful to discuss how changing perspectives will be handled ahead of time so that initial visits home are not times of conflict.

Questions to ask your student

1. Approximately how many hours of sleep do you estimate you get each night?
2. How many hours do you guess you study per credit hour?
3. Can you tell me how you schedule “fun time”?
4. When do you start your homework — soon after receiving or do you tend to procrastinate?
5. Tell me how you interact with your professors and advisor.
6. What are your favorite academic resources — a few examples are the LEAD program, tutoring and the Student Success Center?
7. When is the best time for you to review material? Before class, after class or both?
8. Can you tell me about your study groups and why you chose to join them?

A Family “To-Do List”

Don’t ask if they are homesick.
The first few activity-packed weeks require new students to concentrate on meeting new people.

Write — even if you don’t get return mail.
Even if your student seems to have forgotten how to call.

Keep panicky phone calls in perspective.
Students may dial home when they are stressed. While you may feel lousy with worry, just talking it out may be all they need.

Visit occasionally.
Although they may only admit it with reluctance, students appreciate visits from their families (especially to shop or eat out).

Trust your student.
It’s tough enough to second-guess yourself as a student without your parents doing the same. Give them your respect.

Families are invited to campus at any time and programs are organized throughout the year by living units, athletic teams, and other student organizations that are geared toward families.
Undergraduate research  Experiential learning is an essential aspect of S&T’s unique learning environment. Undergraduate research is a core component that provides students with out-of-classroom learning experiences that apply classroom knowledge to solving real-world problems. During their first year, S&T students are introduced to undergraduate research programs through introductory courses and seminars.
Leach Theatre
leachtheatre.mst.edu
Leach Theatre, located in Castleman Hall, offers students world-class entertainment.

The Campus Performing Arts Series (CPAS), Leach Family Series and Remmers Special Artist/Lecturer Series bring in symphonies, lectures, solo artists, live theater, Broadway touring shows and dance troupes to the Leach stage. CPAS performances offer free or discounted tickets to S&T students, with a student season ticket option available.

Athletics and Recreation
minerathletics.com | rollacity.org
S&T offers 17 NCAA Division II varsity sports. Campus sporting events provide a great opportunity for students and the entire community to promote pride, unity, and team spirit for the Miners. S&T offers 30 intramural sports, aerobics classes and many informal recreational activities to encourage fun and fitness at the Fitness Center. Interested in getting involved, but don’t know how? Peer Involvement Advisors (PIAs) are here to help!

Minerama & Spring O’Rama

Experiential Learning
experientiallearning.mst.edu
Experiential learning is the foundation of a broad-based Missouri S&T education. Experiential learning activities are designed for students to go beyond mastering basic skills and knowledge in the application of that material to problem-solving challenges. Most students will be required to complete some form of experiential learning prior to graduation, whether that be involvement in a design team, co-op or internship experience, undergraduate research, and more.

Student Design Teams
design.mst.edu
The Student Design and Experiential Learning Center (SDELC) serves as the business incubator and support center for 20 multidisciplinary student-managed design teams. The SDELC is housed in the Kummer Student Design Center, a facility that provides design team members with advanced computer design labs and software, a complete manufacturing and testing center, business offices and logistical assets, along with the technical, marketing, communication and fundraising support necessary to prepare students for successful careers even before graduation.

Volunteerism and Services
involvement.mst.edu/volunteer
Volunteerism and involvement provides students an opportunity to have a positive impact on social issues within the community through service. Volunteerism demonstrates civic engagement and commitment to one’s community — an important part of your personal and professional development.

Study Abroad
studyabroad.mst.edu
S&T offers study abroad opportunities in more than 40 countries. Students may enroll in full-time academic programs abroad for a semester or a full year. Often educational fees are the same as S&T’s on-campus fees. S&T participates in the Missouri-London and Missouri-Greece programs. Short-term summer exchanges are also available with S&T partner universities in China, Sri Lanka, Australia and South Africa. Contact a study abroad advisor for more information.
